You can set a time limit after which your internet usage will be strictly limited. It will block Internet access after the set time expires or your internet data quota is used up. So this works like a server firewall, which you can set in the security preferences. Torrenting Time Limit is a nice and easy to use program to stop your torrents. It's easy to set up as well as to use. Torrenting Time Limit blocks your torrents after you have used a certain amount of data, time or both. You can set it to block torrents after 5 minutes, 15 minutes, and 2 hours. Torrenting Time Limit can either block a site, or it can block everything from a certain ip address. In this way you can block a proxy server or ban a particular ip address. This allows you to block someone that is constantly doing cyber attacks against you. Torrenting Time Limit can be deactivated at any time from the main screen. You can download this app without any
